CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

Dedication

In beloved memory of Miss Gertrude Duffy; sincere, understanding, wise, and gracious counseler, we, the graduating class of 1948 dedicate our yearbook.

We take this time to give our thanks to Mr. Downey who has given so much time and energy helping us with our problems during our four years of school life. He has made himself memorable to us by his unfailing encouragement and aid. We leave this school with our best wishes for his happiness and prosperity in years to come.

Prologue

Joy, apprehension, and sorrow fill our hearts as we prepare to receive our diplomas. Yet, we know that the teachers of Cambridge High and Latin School have instilled into us the knowledge that gives us confidence. Confidence that we shall safely pass the obstacles, doubt and fear, and go onward to climb the steps leading to success.

BETTY TENORE.

Class Poem 1948

O dawn, joyous dawn, we greet in eager conquest;
Far on horizons, we see the sun break through.
O harbinger of day, we make our humble behest,
What light-beams guide our way throughout the blue?

Oh, here we stand, alert, afraid but proudly
As a young bird is loathe to leave the nest;
Yet we shall go to face the fight so nobly
That each tried task will always stand the test.

Still young, untried, we see our purpose clearly,
Deeds to perform, ideals we must seek;
We shall not fail, nor count the cost so dearly
That we climb not unfaltering to the peak.

Farewell, dear school, we leave your walls endearing,
Your haven, a shelter, down pathways to success
May we meet bravely life though it be seering,
With prayer that God our efforts ever bless.

GERALDINE JACKSON.

Class Song - 1948

A class of Seniors, year upon year,
From out these portals that we hold so dear,
Goes forth from safe harbor to unknown lands
Guided by skillful and patient hands.

Tonight our time has come to depart;
Older and wiser each reluctant heart.
Yet, as we go down the way, we shall bear
A cargo of memories dear and fair.

New lands of peace will beckon the soul,
Let us be worthy to achieve its goal.
Unchartered the way and ocean we cross;
Our God will inspire and direct our course.

In Memoriam

Miss Gertrude Duffy - Teacher, Colleague, Friend

Miss Gertrude Duffy died November 30 after a week's illness. Her death brought to a close a brilliant career and a lifework whose foundation was a regard for, and a devotion to, the interests of others. Her long tenure of service in the Cambridge schools encompassed every phase of school organization and administration. From the kindergarten to the closing days at high school, her advice and assistance were of inestimable benefit to pupils and staff personnel. The breadth of her knowledge was amazing. She was a pioneer in the field of tests and measurements and was preeminent in solving the problems of the physically handicapped or maladjusted child. Social agencies, psychologists, psychiatrists, leaders in education, the clergy and the courts all sought her counsel. Hundreds of men and women are today leading happy and useful lives because of Miss Duffy's depth of understanding and tireless interest in them in the confused days of their youth.

Her character was written in her work. She was always herself; she did not pretend. Her modesty and lack of love of limelight denied her the broader public acclaim that was justly hers. Ironically, she died on the eve of more fitting recognition of her service to the Cambridge schools.

The finality of Death is less than we think. Miss Duffy's spirit will live, and—

"Through such souls alone, God, stooping, shows Sufficient of His light for us in the dark to rise by."

TIMOTHY F. DOWNEY,
Headmaster.

HISTORY
CHLS

It was in September, 1944, that we, the class of 1948, happily yet timidly first passed through the portals of C. H. L. S. At once we were confronted by a maze of corridors and long staircases. However, we soon became accustomed to the school itself and to that inferior feeling possessed by all freshmen. By the time 1945 had arrived we were "old-timers."

Two days in the last part of the freshman year stand out in our memories. The first was the time of the death of President Roosevelt, the only president we had known. Soon after we celebrated V-E Day with the hope that a complete victory might follow.

Suddenly June was upon us, and we found ourselves Sophomores with the first year at C. H. L. S. already gone.

The next September we returned to the now familiar building. With the surrender of Japan, our country was at peace for the first time in almost four years.

What a delightful feeling it was to look down upon the poor freshmen and know that there was a class lower than ours in the school. At first we were all bubbling over with enthusiasm and vitality but that fast disappeared.

As Sophomores, many of us began to take part in the clubs, dances and athletic activities of the school.

We all worked hard and the year quickly passed. We soon held in our hands the all-important report card with Junior scrawled across it.

When next we entered C. H. L. S. we were superior beings, upperclassmen, regarded with awe by those on the lower floor.

Beside the constant studying necessary for us to do, we plunged into other activities. First and most important of all was the class election which was the favorite topic of conversation for many a day. When election day came, we chose Charles Durakis as president, George Lakis as vice-president, Peggy Sullivan as secretary, and Joseph Rogers as treasurer. Following the election, plans for the Junior Prom were begun. Everyone agreed that it was a smash success.

We also had the privilege of ordering class rings in our Junior year.

In the field of sports, our class brought its share of glory to the school. The hockey team placed second in the G. B. I. League, and the basket-ball team took part in the Tech Tourney losing out by only one point. In the State track meet 300, Charlie Durakis made a record-breaking 33.7.

Our Junior year sped by as quickly as the others. Soon June arrived and the Seniors left. There we were at last — top men on the totem-pole.

Seniors! That last year seemed to race by. So many things to be done. After a fast, furious campaign we elected Ernest Anastos as president, George Lakis as vice-president, Joan Barbera, secretary and Jimmy Cotter, treasurer. We often wondered how those campaign posters could have materialized so suddenly and in such out of the way places.

Some of us ordered our class rings and still more went through the ordeal of "sitting" at Purdy's. Proofs circulated through the upper floor disrupting classes and causing exclamations of either praise or horror. Then, there were measurements for our caps and gowns, and also frequent assemblies.

In addition to all this, many of us spent a great deal of our time at seventh periods preparing ourselves for those dreaded college boards which took place on April 3rd.

Now, as we stand ready to leave these friendly corridors, we look back with pleasure and pain on those four fleeting years made so memorable by the patience, co-operation and kindness bestowed upon us by our worthy teachers.

With these thoughts in mind we step out into the future.

TIMOTHY CRONIN,

ALICE COSMAN.

BETTY TENORE BECOMES PRESIDENT

Famous Lady Politician Returns from Washington to Attend Banquet In Her Honor

Washington, June 1 — Betty Tenore, alumna of Cambridge High and Latin, Class of '48, astounded the country today by being the first woman President of the United States. Mayor Anastos of Cambridge, together with City Manager Leonard Traveis, and Councilmen Francis J. Cooke, Timothy J. Cronin, Edmund A. Goodhue, John Morakis, George Lakis, George A. McLaughlin, Jr., Frederick L. Good, Peter J. Manos, and Edward J. Leonard, were busily preparing a banquet in honor of the first woman who so daringly upset the custom of having only men presidents.

Miss Tenore has managed to take a few days from her duties in Washington to attend the banquet which will be held at the luxurious William Hartford Hotel. The menu will be planned by the excellent connoisseur of fine foods, John Plekavich, while the music will be provided by Joseph LoPresti's famous orchestra. Mary Ellen Ritz, renowned member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be on hand to offer a few musical selections. George Waters and Byron DeLuca will take photographs of the ceremony.

PARENTS ASSOCIATION TO PRESENT PLAY

The Cambridge Parents Association will present a play in the Barbera Auditorium for the benefit of neurotic teachers. It will be entitled "The Seventh Period." Among the members of the cast are Constance Gerasim, Head of the Modern Language Department; Evelyn McCabe, Dean of Junior girls; and Catherine Sikalis, renowned psychologist.

The Cambridge School Committee has approved of Jean Hildebrand's appointment as Supervisor of girl's gymnastics. After a stirring piece of oratory from Stella Zacharakis, members Jane Butler, Lois Lubin, Mary Kennedy, William McMahon and John Flynn voted for her appointment to this post.

FAMOUS HUNTER CAPTURES RARE BUTTERFLY

Juguariahiva, Brazil, June 4 — Frederick Savina, ambassador to Brazil, announces that Timothy Orrok, director of the Peabody Museum, is making plans to return to Cambridge after spending five years in the deep jungles of Brazil in search of the rare member of the diurnal lepidopterous insect. Mr. Orrok will be accompanied by his able assistant, David Ashenden.

This store will cater especially to the ladies with two revolutionary departments: a select fashion department, in direct contact with Paris, is headed by Elizabeth Goldberg, and staffed by Christine Karon, Ruth Bingham, and Louise Layne; an interior decorating department, located next to the paint and wallpaper, is staffed by Joanne Ward and Gwendolyn Bupp.

NEW HOSPITAL TO OPEN MONDAY

Due to the valiant efforts of Dr. Charles Durakis, world-recognized brain specialist, the New Cambridge Hospital will open next Monday. Architects Alvin Brezinsky and Gerald Zyfers announce that the new, ultra-modern hospital will be ready to accept its first patients at nine o'clock Monday morning.

A very competent staff is headed by Dr. Thomas Egan, famous for his new hearing device, Dr. William Montieth, Dr. Myron Goldberg, and Charles Burns, funeral director.

Among the nurses are Carol Turowsky, Irene and Helen Carr, Janet Irwin, and Sally McGuinness.

F. B. I. CHIEF ARRIVES

Basil Holt Bourque, F. B. I. head, arrived yesterday at the Leahy International Airport. The fearless crime buster was overcome by the altitude, and reporters, Bob Zanis, Mary Herlihy and Myrtle Levesque were somewhat surprised to see him being carried from the plane by hostess Jean Yorston, Jane Savill, Elaine Munro, Marjorie MacOdrum, Gertrude Keenan, Margaret Donaghue, Louise Crocetta and Eva Costanza, feet first. One of John Lavalle's taxis was dispatched to take him to the Lutz Hotel to recover.

SPORT FLASHES

It looks as if Dick Rigazio will get the American League's most valuable player award again. The Sox's shortstop is leading the league in batting and fielding . . . Jimmie Cotter, Olympic champ, will try to reach seven feet next Saturday in the meet at Goolst Stadium. . . Dick Tufenkjian, Cambridge Latin basketball coach announced that his next team will be one of the best . . . It is reported that Fred Hiscock, sports promoter, has offered Walter Stanewitz and Bill Cusick $100,000 each to play for his football team . . . The Dynan twins are starting a summer hockey league in their arena. Jackie Lee, Jack Donahue, and Don McManus are playing for the Cambridge team . . . Jeri Jackson, veterinary at Murry Shockett's Ups'n Downs track gave us some inside dope on tomorrows handicap. Ray Shea's three year old "Last Chance" ridden by Dick Boyajian is the favorite. Paul Fougere's "Glue Pot" with Jack Roche up is a dark horse.

SECRETARIES HOLD ANNUAL MASQUERADE

The Supermello gorgeous Secretaries' Club held its annual Masquerade dance

last night at the Sullivan Elite Club. The affair was its usual success and the dancers were pleased with the orchestra, "Clancy's Collapsible Clambakers." Maestro Joe Clancy beamed his welcome to one and all. Incidentally the club was recently opened under the management of the Misses Beatrice, Florence, Margaret, and Marjorie Sullivan.

Seen waltzing around the floor were Christine Anderson, as Little Red Riding Hood, with Edmund Landers as the Wolf. (Appropriate, Huh?) Also in Seventh Heaven were Marilyn Barber, Doris Camplese, and Rose Dadoorian, dressed as angels. During the evening we noticed Little Bo Peep, in the person of Elaine Grenier, looking around for her lost sheep. Later, we saw these same lambs, Joan Grossi, Wally Karlson, Doris Hammond, Marie Kelly and Mary Marasi off in a corner ogling all the rams present.

During that same evening, we saw that daughter of Old Erin, Alice "Bridget" McCarthy; and a prettier Irish lass there never could have been. Eagerly listening to "Bridget's" words was Cha Sullivan, a bit of the Old Sod, himself.

The officers of the S. S. Club, Prexey Frances Cupill, Vice President Ann Foley, Secretary Audrey Mangan, and Treasurer Loretta Shanley all came as office equipment.

In the swing of things by the middle of the night were Bob Robson as Old Man River, Tom Kelleher as a Night Letter, Conrad MacArthur as a ten dollar bill, executive John Kirk with his secretary, Gemma Caparo, and Stanley Alperin, as a pencil, with his eraser, Gertie Roseman.

As Mama Bear, Mary Fox, dragged her three little bears along the dance floor, Papa Bear, Danny Sullivan, dragged himself to the nearest coke stand. Baby Bears, Alice Green, Joan Kelley, and Helen Lewis enjoyed themselves at the expense of the Curran Hotel.

Doing the Charleston were Flappers Mary Torci, Lois Weekes, Jane Woodes, Mary Walters, Fanny Vitale, Mary Reilly and Betty Morris. Aiding and abetting them were Shieks Bill Fehlan, Arnold Levine, Dave Brown, Warren Goddard, Boo Sordillo, William Fennell, and John Donnelly.

"The ballroom was quiet—then came the three Musketeers—" And in they marched—Bill Hennessy, Leroy Johnson, and Paul Hennessy, with their trusty coke bottles at their sides. After circling the room once, the men picked for their partners the lovely ladies Babara McQuade, Betty McGonigle, and Joan Kirby.

The center of attraction was Paul Crowley as Sampson. Delilahs Connie Cheevers, Nancy Burgess, and Georgia Kapelos tried to clip him, but the boy was too fast.

SOCIETY NEWS

Cambridge, June 1 — The Cambridge League of the Royal Blue Bloods held their first banquet yesterday at the home of prominent socialite Nancy Rose, well-known for her outstanding work feeding pigeons on the Cambridge Common. Guest speaker was Ellen Earle, popular young authoress, who spoke on "The Love Life of Bumble Bees." Barbara Cronin, Doris Fields, and Martha Fleet have decided to raise bees as a hobby. Ruth Cosgrove and Mary Messuri, internationally known whistlers, surprised everyone by whistling, "Flight of the Bumble Bees." Among those present were Gladys Hill, Patricia Kokinakis, Shirley Adams, Veronica Hill, Margaret Atkins, and Jessie Dubay.

Eugenia Felipe, outstanding member in Spanish as well as American social circles, has announced that she has resigned her position in the American consulate in Madrid in favor of opening a new school for the purpose of teaching Spanish. Rumors are that Geraldine Nugent and her sister Nancy, Nancy Petropoulos, Anne Urbonavich, Olive Clary, and Dorothy Frorillo have already enrolled in classes. Miss Ethel Petroulias has accepted a post as teacher.

Misses Eva and Gloria Silverman, Alyce and Jeanette White, Isabel and Shirley Conway, Barbara and Carol Dias, Gertrude and Gladys Evans, Dorothy and Ruth Hamilton, Colleen and Doris Jordan, and Mary and Natalie Wyman have set sail for a pleasant three months vacation in Bermuda, after collecting daffodils during the winter months. When asked if they liked their work, they answered, "It's terribly strenuous work, you know."

Trula Cupas and Margaret Jeffries are among those studying the housing conditions for squirrels in the Harvard Yard. Anna DeRose reported that families of twelve lived in less than three square feet of foliage! A most distressing situation, of course. Members of the "Be Kind to Squirrels Club," including Gloria Allsopp, Gloria Bryan, Marilyn Conley, Alice Cunha, and Gloria Economou, are pondering the question of growing more trees or commencing a new sport, squirrel hunting.

CAMBRIDGE NURSES HOLD WATER PARTY

All Have a Dripping Good Time

The Cambridge Chapter of the Nurses' Fun and Fancy Free Club, under the direction of its President, Jewell Grigsby, held an unusual party at the YMCA last night. Members on the committee which planned this event were Virginia Cuddihy, Clare Connolly, Valerie Broussard, and Louise Harnum. The first "Splash Party" of the year was a great success.

As we walked in the door, we saw many well-known Cambridge nurses floundering around the pool. Miss Margaret York, an expert diver, executed a perfect swan dive for the benefit of those present. She was later given artificial respiration by Osberta Stead. She then admitted that she could dive, but could not swim!

Sopping wet, but happily engaged, were Helen Green, Doris Bird, Janet Irwin, Irene Soper and Barbara Muse, who took part in the final event of the evening, the "Apple Race." Several large apples were thrown into the pool and the resulting competition was amusing to the bystanders. It seems that everyone, especially Betty Mueller, was hungry at just that time.

Miss Barbara McIntosh proclaimed it to be the "drippiest event of the year."

NEW HEADS IN CAMBRIDGE HOSPITAL

Miss Frances G. Lawlor, Director and founder of the Lawlor General Hospital, announces that several new heads of the clerical departments have been added to the already stupendous staff.

The new officials have charge of the entire clerical procedure at the hospital. In charge of the Broken Bones section is Miss Doris Savina, who records all the names and case histories of the patients in this particular section. Miss Genevieve Sawicz is the hand that guides the pen in the Stomach Ailments section. Miss Margaret F. STARS INTERVIEWED BY HOME-TOWN REPORTER

Among the many famous names to emerge from Cambridge are those of the moving picture stars who are now appearing on our screens and our stages in personal appearance tours. Some of these stars are now doing that very thing on our own Lillian Battle Theatre stage right this very week. These stars happen by coincidence to be those very boys and girls who were once trained in dramatics in our local high school.

First on our list of famous names to visit was that of Marsha Boing, better known to her Cambridge friends as Carroll Burke. She is now playing the lead in a very exciting movie about the jungle. Her only trouble is, she says, that gorilla with her in the picture keeps pulling her hair.

Next on our list was that grand old man of the silver screen, Jon Smaltz. Mr. Smaltz, in reality only 33 years of age, is known to his friends in this city as Jimmy Prior. He tells us that there is only one thing wrong with playing the role of an old man. He says, "People offer to help me across streets, carry my bundles, give me their seats in street cars and now they are making me feel like an old man."

Glamour girl, Lila LaDroop, was next. We found Miss LaDroop, christened Dorothy Cullinane, in the midst of rehearsing for her new show, the "Death of the Monster" in which she plays the title part. (Ed. "The Death of the Monster" has recently been changed to "The Lady and the Monster.") Miss LaDroop was as lovely as ever.

ENTERTAINMENT
Star Object of Riot

Stanley Poole, handsome star of the Roland Perkins Film Studios was mobbed by 40,000 young women at the Monroe Hotel yesterday. House detective William Hoey and manager Robert Landers, tried in vain to control the mob. It was finally necessary for telephone operator Shirley Brown to call the riot squad.

Carol Walthrup has engaged contractor John Mahoney to enlarge her Beverly Hills swimming pool. She had some trouble with the Inland Waterways Commission as the pool now extends to Sante Fe.

Eleanor Thiffault and Beatrice Korenthal are to co-star in Horace Dwyer's new $50,000,000 epic.

MASSACHUSETTS STENOS FIGHT WAGE INCREASE

The Federation of Massachusetts Stenographers today announced via their secretary, Miss Stella Carrieri of Cambridge, that they would fight the recent wage increase on the platform of moral dissipation. The President, Miss Lucy Bederian, claims that too much money would make the stenos lazy, incompetent, and discontented with their present positions.

In an interview, Miss Josephine Lombardi, spokeswoman for the group in this matter, said that she would uphold the Federation in all that they did; and also that she was of the opinion that all the rest of the stenos would feel the same way.

Agreeing with Miss Brawley were the Misses Edith Condon, Rita Corkery, Joan Corkum and Marie Corsino.

Although a little doubtful as to the outcome of the affair, Miss Marilyn Grinham stated that she was behind the Feds all the way.

Also on the doubtful list were Violet Headley, Nancy Hollis, Mary Isabella, Corrine Jackson, Eleanor Jones, Ann Kennedy and Helene King.

In direct opposition to this fight were the following girls: Jean La Pierre, Lorraine Lawrence, Dorothea Lewis, Margaret McLaughlin, Irene Maleski, Adeline Malorzo, and Grace Sargent.

GOSSIP 'N' GAB

By Looie Crumwit

We hear that Miss Anastasia Manolas was given a birthday party by her friends, at the Hotel Medoff, with Manager Gladys Mentus and Prop. Frieda Medoff in attendance. Miss Mae Odis Marsh arranged the affair and was responsible for the refreshments. Is that why we saw Margaret McCarthy leave the room with such a pained expression on her face?

Is it true that Irene McDonald and Jessie McEntee have started their own model agency?

In the recent blaze at the Dolores Neal Auditorium at Rindge, the new Firemen's Auxiliary went into action. This auxiliary is composed entirely of women. Seen struggling with the fire were Hosewoman Dorothy O'Brien, Linewoman Marie Oliveira, and Hosewoman Lillian Petersen. Captain Phyllis Phelan and Chief Bernadette Pitts had their eyelashes badly singed. Marie Poaletta became frightened at the beginning of the fire and ran home to her mother, along with Eleanor Prentice, Helen Robertson, and Mary Costa.

The whole city's talking about the new hair style for girls this summer — the shaved head. Seen featuring this unusual hairstyle were these daring models for the Hairdressers' Guild of America; Miss Louise Crowell, Miss Sarah D'Alba, Miss Eleanor Davin, and Miss Virginia DiNapoli.

In the recent Photog's Model Contest, several Cambridge girls were among the finalists. Among the names listed were those of Dorothy DeJesus, Jeanne Elliot, Margaret Fraser, Vivian Freeman, and Thelma Gourdine. The winner was Miss Margaret Doyle, a graduate of Cambridge High and Latin School, Class of 1948.

HUSH AROUND THE TOWN

Shhh: Don't tell anyone, but Claire Doherty heard from Viv Silver, who got her information directly from Robert Laffin, the butcher, that Giragosian's Meat Market will soon be converted into a cafeteria. During a fire the other night, Giragosian's meat was accidently cooked.

Jump For Joy: Jolly John Gomes, the gay gravedigger, gave a "Jump For Joy" party in the back of Bob Hanlon's Milk Malt Shop Monday morn. The admission was free. Every one paid at the back door. Henry Muse and Dan Dwyer, morticians, were the life of the party. They laughed themselves stiff.

Garden Gapers: Ann Villari has a new garden. Using her head for a change, she dug a hole in it and planted some very attractive flowers. Imagine a garden and a flowered hat at the same time.

Flash: Priscilla Wharton who runs the Cuddly Candy Kitchen has invented a new kind of candy treat. You can't see it, feel it, smell it, or even taste it; novel, eh wot!

What Next: Larry Corcoran of DeCosta Street, who became a member of John Kelley's travelling circus, proved the other night that he really has a big mouth. He twisted his tactics and instead of putting his head in the lion's mouth, he opened his mouth wide, while the lion put his hairy head inside. Larry made but one remark . . . "It tickled!"

MILLER'S DEPARTMENT STORE PRESENTS ANNUAL STYLE SHOW

The annual style show of the Alfred Miller Department Store was held yesterday at the Benjamin Voles Hotel in Boston. Among the many eye-catching frocks for 1964 were creations by such leading dress designers as Phyllis Torp, Joan Archibald, Shirley Cohen, Ann Mintz, and Dorothy Mullin. Jeanann Hogan, famed millinery designer, startled the fashion world with a revival of the "bonnet hat," a style which has not been worn since 1948.

Theresa Callinan, Marlyn Roach, Jean Penniman, Pauline Dooley, Alyce Calligandes, and Marion Murray were among the many lovely models from Thomas J. Nolan's Modeling Agency. The girls did an excellent job of showing New England the fashions for 1964.

Among the many socialites to attend the show were Nadja Ehrlich, famed world correspondent; Evelyn Wong, renowned authoress; Bernice Levenson, fashion co-ordinator of the Lilian Hyson Dress Shop, located in Boston and New York; Dorothy Checchi, radio's record queen; and Alice Cosman, editor of "LISTEN," the popular literary magazine.

Mary Lowry, charming personality of stage and screen, entertained the audience during intermission with a brief chat on her impression of "the old look," which has just been introduced in America, replacing "the new look" which swept the world by storm in 1948.

Refreshments were served through the courtesy of the "OBrien-McSweeney Sweet Shop," Richard O'Brien and Robert McSweeney, proprietors.

Everyone agreed that the style show was one of the most successful of the season and we are eagerly awaiting its return.

PREVIEW HEARS TELL:

Professors Helen Panis, Helen Pedrini, and Rosemary Talarico, have just completed a series of experiments that will benefit mankind more than any others which have been recently performed, in this or any other country. The Professors were trying to make medicine out of TNT when the building in which they were working exploded, and the Professors have not been heard of since. Let us sincerely hope that either the Professors are still alive, or the medicine they were perfecting will ward off terrific heat.

"In the Red," a new play to be produced by the Mirabile Summer Theatre, will have as its stars the great actresses, Rosemary Muse, Lucille Ciampi, Rose Silva, Jean Egan, and Dorothy George. Miss Dorothy McNiece will direct, and the music will be furnished by the one and only Jenny Walkowicz.

The new Marie Villirilli and Josephine Warren School of Beauty is to be opened on July 5. All those who wish more information may call Miss Lydia Teixeira, Director, at her home on Trowbridge Street, any time this month until the school's opening sessions.

Miss Roxie Sadoian is leaving on a trip to England this week and we certainly hope that it is a pleasant one. She is going abroad as a representative for the shipping concern of Saidnaway, Landry, and Thibault.

Seen shopping in the John Corkery Smart Shop at a sale of spring suits greatly reduced from $4,900 to $4,899 were Helen Soboleski, Undine Thompson, Laura Bento, Belvia Dixon, Joanne Dubuque, Nina Pilgrim, and Lila Rixon.

The sale of new spring hats in the Boczenowski Beauty Bazaar attracted a large number including Pauline Hamlin, Mary Spirito, Elaine Griffith, Doris Redd, Jeanne Hyatt, Louise Iosue and Naia Johnson.

FASHIONS AS I SEE THEM

Joyful Kilbirdie
Truth Mugglebug

For today's designers we have selected Mlle. Gladys Micholowski, Mlle. Lorraine Kaminski, Mlle. Patricia Schultz, Mlle. Dorothy Murphy, and Mlle. Jean Colarusso.

Mlle. Kaminski favors the short straight skirt, so popular in the early forties. Her entire collection is dominated by this type skirt, and this carries over even to her after-dark wear, creating something new in the line of evening gowns. Anyone who expects to be in the height of fashion, will, I predict, find herself sporting these lovely gowns to many a concert, soiree, or dance.

Mlle. Colarusso has brought with her from Paris a new color, "Frizzleberry Grey." This color is astounding! Why do people wear such worn out colors as red, green, blue and black when they can entrance others with their "Frizzleberry Grey?"

To get back to Mlle. Kaminski's short skirts, they are considered most revolutionary. In fact, they have not been seen since the days of the Marshall Plan and of our graduation. In reference to these thought-provoking skirts, Mlle. Schultz says only, "Dey are here—dey are dere—dey are going to be everywhere."

Mlle. Micholowski has come up this season with a hat in the new style. This hat is very intriguing, believe it or not! It has an off-the-face brim with a down cast looking ribbon, and perched right on the top, for all to see, sits a lop-sided battleship! Can you imagine wearing a piece of the U. S. Navy on your head?

For her piece de resistance, Mlle. Murphy has chosen a lovely suit made of fibre-glass. Though a bit uncomfortable, this material brings many admiring glances.

Variations have been modelled at Mlle. Murphy's recent style show by models Theresa Baptiste, Mary Belliveau, Margaret Blomgren and Jennie Prinzi.

The Review

Thanks to the loyal and creative contributors from the four classes of Cambridge High and Latin School, the Review had a very successful season in 1947-48. There were five issues of essays and features. Of the latter, The Spotlight, the Sports Column, Freshman notes, and Club notes appeared regularly; May We Present and the cartoons appeared in a majority of the issues, and there were several special features such as the Popularity poll and the pictures of last year's graduation.

Due credit must be given to the business and typing staffs, without whose endeavours the magazine could not have appeared at all. Last but definitely not least is our gratitude to the faculty advisors, Miss Kelley for the literary group, Mister Higgins for the business section, and Mister Santoro for the art staff.

During this school year Junior Red Cross activities have been taking an important part in school work. There has been great interest in the many worthwhile projects which Junior Red Cross provides.

Over seventy-five gift boxes have been filled and packed with health and educational supplies by the students. These boxes which cost about two dollars to fill are worth over fifty dollars in the war-torn countries to which they are sent.

Four correspondence albums have been made by pupils. These albums are filled with stories and articles which will tell our foreign neighbors what our country is like. One purpose of these albums is to create better international relations.

The school has taken an active interest in the service to veteran's hospitals. Cookies have been made by the home economics classes, funny books, and ash trays have been brought in. All these small services make the hospitalized veteran's life a happier one.

During the March drive for funds the school set up a speaker's bureau. This bureau provided people to talk on Junior Red Cross and its part in Red Cross work.

We feel that we have had an extremely successful and fruitful year, and are looking forward to next year's projects with pleasant anticipation.

El Club Espanol is a group of enthusiastic students of Spanish, interested in the people of Spain and Latin America. The purpose of the club is primarily to foster an interest in and a love for Spanish and Latin-American culture the language, music, art, and literature of our Spanish-speaking neighbors. The meetings are all conducted in Spanish and according to parliamentary procedure. Among the events on our Spanish Club calendar this year were an all-Cervantes program, a Christmas program, two or three Spanish movies, with the gracious assistance of Miss O'Shea, a lecture and concert by Dr. and Sra. Contreras, two delightful people from Mexico — and a comedy. At some of our meetings our talented members entertained with Spanish songs, dances, and instrumental selections. Usually there was group singing by all members of the club.

The Spanish Club was fortunate this year in having very capable officers and an energetic program committee. Under the guidance of our Spanish teachers, and Miss Parsons, our faculty adviser, we have had a very enjoyable and profitable year.

K. B. Report

This year the old members started the new season in October with a trip to see Oklahoma! This was followed by the impressive candle light ceremony at which twenty new members were initiated. The members, as usual, came from the junior and senior classes.

Again this year we did our best to cheer the patients at the Holy Ghost Hospital by caroling there at Christmas time. After this we had our own Christmas party.

On the evening of January 16th we held our Winter Formal. Everyone had a wonderful time dancing to Freddie Sateriale's orchestra.

This year our charity work consisted of soliciting money for a veteran organization to take the place of the U. S. O.

Late in May we held a holiday at the beach. The installation of the new officers took place at our last meeting.

All the members join with me in thanking Miss McElroy for the years of service that she has given us. We are grateful to Miss Young and Miss MacDonald for the wonderful guidance that they have given us this year.

Dramatic Club

It is with great regret that the seniors ring down the curtain on our years of Dramatic Club doings. However we shall carry through life many memories of four fun-filled years.

Two one act plays, For All Eternity and Are We Dressing? were given at the beginning of the year. Both were rollicking comedies and went over well with the audience.

The Valentine Formal, held at the Hotel Commander, was a great success. Fred Sateriale's Orchestra provided both swing and sway music.

The last meeting of the year was a picnic at which the new officers were installed.

This year's officers hope that all future members have as much fun as we did. We wish to thank Miss Hartigan for her generous assistance in all our enterprises.

Basketball 1st Varsity

Our senior varsity is one team we can be proud of, for we won two out of the four games played this season. We started the season by defeating Somerville with a close score of 26 to 24, but then Newton overpowered us with a score of 42 to 17.

A little discouraged, we went into the third game of the series against our annual foe Waltham. It was a nip-n-tuck game until the second half when to the surprise of our coaches and friends we won the game by 26 to 14.

The closing game of the season was against the "old girls." It was the first time in four years that our school team has come out victorious against the graduates.

The following players were responsible for the success of the team of '48:

Rosemary Egan	Pat Kokinakis
Jean Hildebrand	Eleanor Moriarty
Marjorie Isnor	Roberta Wilkie
Gloria Kaufman	Jane Syzmanski (manager)

G. A. A.

The motto of the Girls' Athletic Association, "To make everyone happy" was faithfully carried out during the past year.

Among the entertaining parties that the G. A. A. sponsored were the Freshman Initiation, the Hallowe'en Party, and the Christmas Party. In addition, we held a new type of dance, "The Record Hop." This gay event took place in the Girls' Cafeteria — a real novelty.

The more important dances were the Formal and Informal, both of which were held at the Hotel Commander.

The annual G. A. A. Picnic at Kendal Green brought a happy ending to a wonderful year.

Taking leave of the G. A. A. this year are senior officers, Patricia Kokinakis, Nancy Nugent, Jane Butler, and Marion Murray.

On leaving, we wish to thank Miss Brown, our faculty advisor, for her wonderful advice and friendship.

Football

This year's gridiron team was small, but scrappy, and, although they brought home only two victories, one of these was over city rival Rindge Tech, and rates recognition, since the boilermakers were favorites taking the field; but a hard charging game on the part of the C. H. L. S. line kept Rindge out of reach of the Cantab goal. The scoring punch was provided by Jimmie Cotter, whose sixty yard run will be long remembered as one of the outstanding feats in the annual Columbus Day duel. This 6-0 win was one of three shutouts for Latin. They held Reading to a scoreless tie, and romped over their new rival Ipswich 24-0, Thanksgiving Day. Some of the other games provided more scoring. Cambridge lost to St. Sebastian 19-18, Agawam 28-14 and Belmont 26-13. The Cantab backs were the most outstanding performers in these games. Besides Cotter, Sal Sabatino, Walter Staniewicz, Co-captain Jakie Boudreau, and Captain-elect Jack Igo deserve commendation for brilliant running. Some of the less publicized, but hard working boys in the line were: Bill Murphy, Jack Donahue, Co-captain Basil Bourque, George Lakis, Jim Dwyer, Fred Hiscock, and Bill Monteith. Despite the team's lack of weight, their record 2-8-1) beat that of any Latin team since 1939. If the fighting spirit of this team is kept up by next year's eleven, we can safely state that football is at last on the upgrade at C. H. L. S.

BASEBALL — 1948

Baseball

By the time you read this, our team will probably come home a winner in the Suburban League. Coach Foley is moulding the team around Dick Rigazio, one of the best shortstops in New England. Jack Donahue forms the other part of the classy keystone combination. Dick Conlon is working behind the plate, with John O'Neil, Ed O'Brien, Bill Miller and Jack Lee among the pitchers. Jack also plays the outfield along with Jakie Boudreau. Bill Monteith and Sal Sabatino, also returning from last year's nine, round out the team at first and third respectively.

HOCKEY TEAM

Hockey

The hope for a successful ice season this year was dampened by Captain Jack Lee's illness from the third game of the season until the playoffs. Jack, the top defenseman in the G. B. I. circuit was back for the playoffs, however, and helped the team to gain two victories, and two ties after his reappearance in the lineup. Dick Rigazio was the offensive star of the team, twice achieving the "hat trick." These two boys were also the outstanding players in the annual international tussle, between the Greater Boston loop all stars and Montreal Catholic. Rigazio was in long enough to fire two of the Boston's four goals past the Canadian net-minder, and Lee's job on defence was sizeable, especially since the Montreal team was usually on the offensive. Thanks largely to our boys' efforts the visitors gained only a 4-4 tie. A run down of Latin's season shows four wins, six losses, and two ties. Two of the welcome wins were over Rindge by 6-0, and 6-3 scores, but it was against Arlington and Stoneham that the boys played their best hockey. The Arlington team which finally won the championship, was spilled 3-1 by Latin. Stoneham, one of the stronger teams in the circuit lost to Latin at Stoneham by a 2-1 score. The defeats were to strong teams from Belmont, Medford, Stoneham and Harvard (freshmen that is), and to not-so-strong teams from Melrose and Newton, but Latin later tied the last two. Besides Lee and Rigazio, Jack Donahue, a second team all star choice, Jakey Boudreau and George McLaughlin were in there trying all the time.

BASKETBALL TEAM

Front Row—Nolan, Tufenkjian, Durakis, Rogers, Dansereau.

Basketball

Inexperience led to a less successful basketball season than those of recent years. Latin could mass only three victories in twelve Suburban league games, the first of which was a striking 41-31 upset of Waltham. The Watchmakers, who eventually won the league championship, were outplayed by the sharpshooting Cambridge outfit. Our team's second victory came in a 47-45 overtime thriller. In both Rindge games Latin lost heartbreakers 29-25, and 27-23. C. H. L. S. threw a scare into Watertown, Arlington and Brookline (second contest, but lost after a tough battle) Newton, who had defeated Latin 48-28 in the Garden City, met with a surprise, at Rindge gym. Latin held them on equal terms all the way and then broke a 22-22 deadlock at bell. Sal Sabatino's accuracy provided the winning margin, as he swished a field goal, but the other members of the team, Ernie Anastos, Junior Lyons, Dick Tufenkjian, Tommy Nolan, Joe Rogers, and Captain Charley Durakis were at their best in this one.

TRACK TEAM

Back Row—Kirkles, Kaufman, Flaherty, Foley, O'Gorman, Matthews, Ling.

Middle Row—Mr. Fraser, Murphy, Snell, McLaughlin, Bourque, Mooney, Rodriques, Hennessy, Grant, Ashenden.

Track

At this writing, the track team is the outstanding team at C. H. L. S. The State Meet was preceded by a duel meet against class "D" champ Concord; this one was taken by Latin 34-25. In the State Meet, our team gained fourth place. Charlie Durakis came through with first place in the 300, and the rest of the points were chalked up by Ray Myers (second in the 1000), Jimmie Cotter (third in the high jump) and George Hughes (third in the 600). Because of their showing in this meet, Durakis, Myers, and Cotter were invited to compete in Heptagonal Invitation Meet. Charlie took first place in the 300, but the other two did not fare as well against the toughest competition in New England. These three, as well as George Hughes, Ronnie Flink and Russ Coffee journeyed to Bowdoin for the New England Invitation championships. Charlie added the 300 in this one to his string of victories, and the relay team defeated those of Rindge and Lynn Classical.

Class Will - 1948

We, the undersigned, of the Graduating Class of 1948, of Cambridge High and Latin School, of deranged mind and body, do by this means make this our last will and testament, bequeath, devise and hand down our most cherished and tender possessions.

1. To the oncoming Freshmen, we leave a building filled with twists, turns and rooms, as well as the joy (?) of being high school students.
2. To next year's Sophomores, we leave that attitude typical of second year students: feeling more important than you are.
3. To the prospective Juniors we leave the privilege of being upper classmen and the honor of being allowed to explore the third floor once every three months.
4. To this year's Juniors who will be next year's Seniors, we leave lunch first recess and a Senior's privilege of being a show off.
5. To the college students we leave the manly art of ducking compulsory seventh periods and the anxiety over College Boards.
6. To the commercial students we leave a repairman to fix the typewriters which have not weathered our battering hands.
7. To the chemistry students we leave the delightful aromas of hydrogen sulfide and carbon disulfide.
8. To the Girls' Athletics, we leave the Girls' Gym with its leaks.
9. To the janitors, we leave a bottle of chewing gum solvent which ought to be sufficient to clean one desk.
10. To the city of Cambridge, we donate one of the members of our class to be a mayor. Perhaps by the time he is of age the City will begin to be ready to have a Chief Executive.
11. To Mr. Bramhall and Miss McElroy, ever our faithful friends and advisers, we donate new and modern offices in a new building (to be built within the next fifty years) with the aid of our taxes. We hope this will make their work happier and brighter.
12. And finally, but not least, we bring by means of our exodus, peace and quiet to Mr. Downey, our faithful, just and persevering Headmaster for four years in Cambridge High and Latin School.

Thus do we dispose of our worldly possessions, much to our relief, to others who a year from now will be only too glad to again transfer them.

Signed

Epilogue

As our high-school years draw to a close, we seriously and fondly remember the happiness of our four years at Cambridge High and Latin School.

It is our sincere wish that this year-book will serve as a visible bond, binding us to our fellow students, recalling to us the individual as well as the group accomplishments of our class of 1948.

BETTY TENORE.
